

steadfast, systematic, kind-hearted, persevering, loyal, cautious, grounded, generous, sensuous, productive, strength of purpose, great inner strength, great sense of conviction, easygoing, systematic, reliable, caring, artistic, musically inclined, practical, patient, adept in business, strong powers of endurance, affectionate & warm-hearted, trustworthy, strong-willed & solid, strong sense of values (especially in relation to the arts) persistent & determined.

My next step of evolution is to visit my Gemini neighbor, share my furnishings and then pick from their garden.

Gemini-whose motto is “I think” therefore I am: knowledge. I think in terms of short distances such as local environments and the neighborhood. My mind is always traveling but usually for short distances at a time. I think, so I communicate. I think, so I project myself onto my early environment. I think, so I am natural mental abilities and intellectual capacities, which all come easy for me.

I am the THIRD HOUSE, I represent the child: nosey and curious and because of this, everything I come in contact with sends my mental radar buzzing, which causes me to talk too much about what I think.

Until I have come to terms with my Gemini dark side, I will embody these characteristics: restless, overly intellectual, wordy, unfocused, nervous, excitable, fickle, unable to control nervous energy, changeable, cunning and clever, two-faces, inquisitive and nosey, inconsistent, a gossip, unemotional, scatterbrained, easily influenced, indiscriminate, superficial, impatient, glib, shallow, double-talking, unreliable, self-deceptive, devious, flighty, secretive and far too flirtatious.

There is no other sign in the zodiac that is as double-talking and overly intellectual as me, because this is my house. If I acknowledge and make peace with my dark characteristics and am a product of all my light side characteristics; it will lead me to my higher self: versatile, exuberant, expressive, artistic, inspirational, authentically communicative, youthful and up-to-date outlook and appearance, trendy, talkative and amusing, spontaneous, witty and logical, busy, lighthearted, cheerful, clever, intelligent, adaptable, mentally alert, excitedly extroverted, quick perception, uses deductive reasoning, flexible, imaginative and an interesting conversationalist.

My next step of evolution is to visit my Cancer neighbor, share my furnishings and then pick from their garden.

Cancer-whose motto is “I feel” therefore I am: your home, heritage, family life, inner securities and psychological foundations of life. I feel, therefore I am subjective qualities having like that of “motherly” instinctual patterns...

I am the FOURTH HOUSE-the adolescent who is going through puberty and various emotional changes within my heart and mind. For that reason, what I feel plays a big part in how I behave and react to my environment and because of this, all that I feel becomes my reality.

Until I have come to terms with my Cancer dark side, I will embody these characteristics:

changeable, moody, insecure, oversensitive, manipulative, hypersensitive, touchy, snappy tempered, hard exterior that hides a weak/cowardly character, self-pitying, unforgiving, too easily flattered, untidy, emotionally unstable, clinging, paranoid, overbearing, needy, over-emotional, dependent, messy, stingy, irritable, melancholic, possessive, emotionally insecure and hermit-like.

There is no other sign in the zodiac that is as moody, over-emotional and changeable as me. If I acknowledge and make peace with my dark characteristics & am a product of all my light side characteristics; that will lead me to my higher self: tenacious, sensitive, sympathetic, caring, sustaining, nurturing, patient, kind, powerful imagination, strong maternal/paternal instincts, solicitous, protective, cautious, shrewd, thrifty, emotionally resourceful, excellent homemaker, marvelous parent, home-loving, non-threatening, empathetic, intuitive, reassuring, receptive imagination, immensely psychic, tender, careful, soothing, warm and sensitive lover.

My next step of evolution is to visit my Leo neighbor, share my furnishings and then pick from their garden.

Leo-whose motto is “I will” therefore I am: your creativity, your children, a risk-taker and promiscuous in the name of romance. I am artistic expression and outward expression of talents and capabilities, games and speculation, pleasure and risk. I am love-affairs with which I will gamble with for love and/or money.

I am the FIFTH HOUSE-the teenager: authoritative, egotistical, daring and wild. What you won't do, I will, which is how I react to my environment.

Until I have come to terms with my Leo dark side, I will embody these characteristics: egotistical, domineering, authoritative, vain, bossy, falsely modest, arrogant, overwhelming, dictatorial, too showy and extravagant, braggart, hates second place, falsely proud, haughty, too conscious of status symbols, feisty, hard to control, attention seeking, tyrannous, self-absorbed, excessively optimistic, proud and dignified, dogmatic, bullying, pompous, snobbish, intolerant, fixed in opinions, patronizing, power-mad and conceited.

There will be no other sign in the zodiac that is more dramatic and showy as me, because this is my house. If I acknowledge and make peace with my dark characteristics and am a product of all my light side characteristics; it will lead me to my higher self: generous spirit, trusting, energetic, fun, romantic, artsy, demonstrative, magnanimous, creative, enthusiastic, a good organizer, broadminded & expansive, sense of showmanship & drama, assertive, enterprising, warm, courageous, radiant, affectionate, individualistic, passionate, optimistic, lots of artistic flair, powerful, noble, strong, loyal, a leader, soothing & gentle tenderness, protective charisma of an older sibling toward the weak, glamorous, glorious and aggressive.

My next step of evolution is to visit my Virgo neighbor, share my furnishings and then pick from their garden.
